McNees Expands its Pro Bono Activities During the Coronavirus Crisis

HARRISBURG, Pa. – (April 7, 2020) In support of its communities and small businesses, McNees is pleased to announce the expansion of its pro bono efforts. This is in addition to McNees' existing pro bono commitments.

McNees will offer pro bono consultation and services on the Federal government's stimulus package and other pandemic-related legal matters, with a focus on the impacts on small businesses and non-profits.

Brian Jackson, Chair, stated that: "There are countless small businesses and non-profits within our communities struggling for survival during this crisis and we will do our part to help them navigate these turbulent economic waters, and offering them legal guidance to keep them afloat."
