

Secrest Wardle Attorney's Recent Success Published in Michigan Lawyers Weekly

Secrest Wardle Partner, Justin A. Grimske, had a recent successful result in a first party no-fault matter featured in a Michigan Lawyers Weekly article. The Court found that his case was almost identical to Bahri, given the direct contradiction between Plaintiff's claimed limitations and his physical capabilities revealed by surveillance. As such, it was determined that these findings violated the defendant insurance company's fraud provision of Plaintiff's policy and granted Defendant's motion for summary disposition.

Justin Grimske is a member of Secrest Wardle's Motor Vehicle Litigation, Premises Liability, Construction and Commercial and Business Law Practice Groups. Mr. Grimske possesses experience in defending clients in a variety of no-fault and third party negligence matters. He has vast experience in handling pre-litigation issues, including fraud investigation and drafting coverage opinions. Mr. Grimske's experience also includes work with catastrophic claims and trucking accident matters. He earned his B.S. from Arizona State University in 2010, majoring in Business (cum laude) and his Juris Doctor from the University of Detroit Mercy School of Law. Mr. Grimske is a member of the State Bar of Michigan, the Claims and Litigation Management Alliance, the Michigan Defense Trial Association, the International Association of Amusement Parks and Attractions (IAAPA) and the International Amusement and Leisure Defense Association (IALDA).
