Randy L. Varner is Chair of the State and Local Tax Practice Group with the law firm of McNees Wallace & Nurick LLC. His practice covers the depth and breadth of Pennsylvania taxes, including Corporate Net Income, Capital Stock/Foreign Franchise, Sales and Use, Personal Income, and Gross Receipts. Randy devotes a substantial part of his practice to local taxes, particularly real estate tax assessment, business privilege and mercantile taxes.

Paul is Of Counsel with the law firm of McNees Wallace & Nurick LLC. He represents commercial and industrial entities in all areas of state and local taxation, focusing on local property taxes and real estate assessment appeals, as well as state corporate net income, capital stock/foreign franchise, sales and use, PURTA, and gross receipts taxes. He has worked at the Board of Finance and Revenue and has interned at the Office of Attorney General Tax Litigation Section. He has extensive experience before the Pennsylvania Board of Appeals, Pennsylvania Board of Finance and Revenue, county boards of assessment appeals, county courts of common pleas and the Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania.

The "Assessment Law and Procedure in Pennsylvania" course will allow you to catch up on all of the new developments, fine-tune your skills and learn the ins and outs of real estate tax assessment practice.
