McNees Wallace & Nurick Named One of the Best Places to Work in PA for the 11th Straight Year

HARRISBURG, PA (September 14, 2016) – McNees Wallace & Nurick was named one of the Best Places to Work in PA for 2016 by the Central Penn Business Journal (CPBJ).

It is McNees' 11th straight year being named to the list of Best Places to Work in Pennsylvania.

“Being recognized for the 11th consecutive year as a best place to work in Pennsylvania is not only a tremendous honor, but also a testament to the culture at McNees,” Chairman David M. Kleppinger said. “Each of our employees is proud and honored to be recognized with the award and we continue to foster a culture where our employees are motivated, feel valued and are committed to our ‘Clients First’ ethos. Service is the most important aspect and the consistency and continuity of our rankings confirm the deep commitment and dedication of our employees to our Clients, workplace and community.”

The survey was conducted by Best Companies Group, a division of the Business Journal's parent company, BridgeTower Media. The program is undertaken through a partnership consisting of Team PA Foundation, the Pennsylvania Department of Community and Economic Development, the Pennsylvania State Council of the Society for Human Resource Management, and BridgeTower Media.

The rankings for the Best Places to Work in PA will be revealed on December 1, 2016 at an event at the Lancaster County Convention Center.

Last year, McNees Wallace & Nurick was rated the third-best place to work in Pennsylvania finishing in the top ten for the seventh consecutive year. It also was the highest-rated law firm.
